

Dædalus

Journal of the American Academy of Arts & Sciences

Spring 2006

comment on the humanities

David Bromwich

A republic divided 5

Patricia Meyer Spacks

Revolution in the humanities 11

Steven Marcus

From classics to cultural studies 15

Andrew Delbanco

American literature: a vanishing subject? 22

Pauline Yu

Comparative literature in question 38

Anthony Grafton

History's postmodern fates 54

Thomas Crow

The practice of art history in America 70

Gerald Early

The quest for a black humanism 91

Jack M. Balkin

& Sanford Levinson

Law & the humanities 105

Dagfinn Føllesdal

& Michael Friedman

The rise of American philosophy 116

poetry

Peg Boyers

Unsent Dedication 127

fiction

Adam Braver

A death in the family 130

notes

William B. Quandt

on Israel & Palestine 133

Norbert Schwarz

on judgments of truth & beauty 136

letters

on scientists as professionals, Social Security & the aging of America &c. 139

